

Hosted at the University of Denver
Sturm College of Law

March 5, 2008
Registration begins at 8:00am
Lunch from noon-1pm
Reception from 6:00pm-8:00pm

The Symposium is sponsored by The University of Denver. Water Law Review, an internationally circulated, semi-annual publication that serves as a high-quality forum for the exchange of ideas, information, and legal and policy analyses concerning water law. In publication since 1997, and the only of its kind in the nation, the Water Law Review seeks to foster water law discussions, both nationally and worldwide, and find possible solutions to the water problems that affect us all.

Approved for 9 general CLE credits and 1.2 Ethics credits.

Register at <http://law.du.edu/rmlui>
early as space is limited to the first 150 registrants!

Fee: $100 with paid registration to RMLUI Conference; $150 for WATER LAW REVIEW Symposium only

WATER LAW REVIEW Symposium

CUTTING EDGE ALTERNATIVES: Creating, Leasing, Reusing

8:30am – Room 165 Opening Comments

Dean Daniel A. Vigil, University of Denver Sturm College of Law Assistant Dean of Academic Affairs

8:45am to 10:15am – Room 165

CBM produced water: A look at Colorado's and Wyoming's appropriation systems and how CBM produced water fits into those systems.

Steven E. Marlin, associate Davis Graham & Stubbs LLP, Denver, CO
Kate M. Fox, partner Davis & Cannon, Cheyenne, WY

Break 10:15-10:25

10:25am-11:55am – Room 165

Indian Water Rights: An introduction to Indian water rights, how climate change may affect Indian water rights and Indian water leasing will be discussed.

Jeanne S. Whiteing, Whiteing & Smith, Boulder, CO
David Gover, Native American Rights Fund, Boulder, CO

Lunch 12:00pm-1:00pm Forum

1:00pm-2:30pm – Room 165

"Super Ditch Company": Using rotational land fallowing to create a "crop" of water. This concept would grant shares of stock to persons offering up their unused water with long-term leases of the unused water to others.

Peter D. Nichols, Esq., Trout, Raley, Montano, Witwer & Freeman, P.C.
Leo M. Eisel, PhD, PE, Principal Engineer Brown and Caldwell, Golden

Break 2:30-2:40pm

2:40-4:10pm – Room 165

Prairie Waters: Aurora, Colorado's Water Recycling Plant: This session will discuss the implication of water reuse by municipalities and the associated environmental aspects.

Bart Miller, Western Resource Advocates
Steven Sims, Brownstein, Hyatt, Farber Schreck
Peter Binney, PE, Director of Utilities City of Aurora Water

Final break – 4:10-4:15pm

4:15-4:45pm – Room 165

Water Court Committee: Designed to evaluate the functions of the state water courts. Justice Hobbs will discuss current findings.

Justice Gregory Hobbs, Colorado Supreme Court

4:45-5:45pm – Room 165

Ethics Session: A discussion of Colorado ethics
Cynthia F. Covell, Alperstein & Covell, Denver, CO

University of Denver
Sturm College of Law

WATER LAW REVIEW
2255 E Evans Avenue
Suite 447
Denver, CO 80208

Phone: 303-871-6223
E-mail: wlr@law.du.edu

The WATER LAW REVIEW Symposium is presented as part of the 17th Annual RMLUI Land Use Conference

RMLUI
ROCKY MOUNTAIN
LAND USE INSTITUTE